

Learn about our local wildlife!

Enoki

("Japanese hackberry")

Birds flock to eat its sweet fruit in autumn (You can eat it too!).

Enoki(榎) means summer(夏) tree(木) because the large roadside trees provide shade in summer.

Who eats it?

Nanafushimodoki

("walking stick insect")

Found between June and August.
It hides itself by mimicking tree branches.

